

Why should the government decide what I get to hear and what I can't get to hear. Ever since the FCC started going nuts over what was airing in our local markets I decided to purchase an XM Radio and will never turn back to local radio ever again. Local radio doesn't offer listeners what they truly want to hear....GREAT RADIO!! Radio should never be censored! I am thrilled to death that I can receive weather and traffic in every major city exactly when I want to listen in. What is the big deal? The NAB is scared of what is to come and people will pay for quality programming! Instead of complaining why not just join in the fun. This is the wave of the future so embrace it. What next, HBO can only play reruns of Sesame Street?
